Our record has been made, our books have been put away. The school year of 1970-1971 is but a memory--a happy everlasting memory which we have tried to capture for you between the pages of the SHAMROCK.

As spring came to our school, senior activities burst forth as abundantly as the Shamrock blossoms.

Acheivement day announced our best student athletes and scholarships were presented, then came the Jr.-Sr. Prom and finally graduation day dawned.

Now near the end of school there is much to call and beckon but in memory are laughter and tears that made these years memorable--and finally gave us a sense of unity.

Shamrock Yearbook Queen - Peggy Ragan

The yearbook staff is happy to name Peggy Ragan the 1971 yearbook Queen. She was chosen by the staff members because of her outstanding cooperation, leadership and willingness to help at all times.

Queen Peggy is a valued member of our '71 Staff.

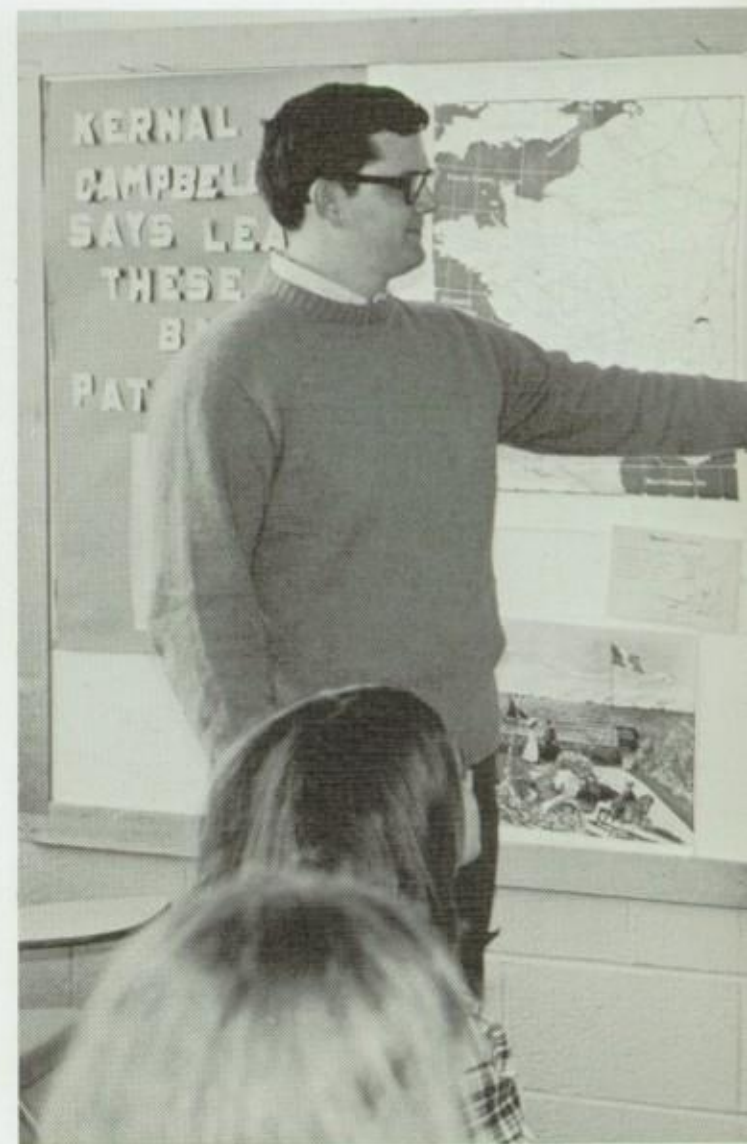

This poster is a reminder that over 300 years ago the Pilgrims invited the Indians to hold a joint three-day festival.

1. Cooperation in all activities.
2. Good leadership qualities.
3. Willingness to give of their time for the good of our school.
4. Average or better scholastic standing.

Barbara is active in all phases of home economics.

Lance is president of FFA

Administration

... unity leaves
us free to determine for ourselves the truths
we will accept.

Harold D. Smith, Superintendent

We strive to unite our community through teaching study, counseling and inter-changing thoughts concerning fundamental issues of education.

In addition to regular school studies, the school presents varied programs and special services throughout the year.

Superintendent Smith shares the hope that through such studies and activities our students will gain the knowledge and understanding necessary for world unity.

Forest Weddle and Marvin Parkhurst, custodians, keep our school neat and clean.

Serving Our School With A Smile

Mrs. Gene Stevens, Mrs. Ann Mossburg, Mrs. Ethel Bickford, and Mrs. Veta Gilpatrick prepare good food for the many hungry students of North Harrison.

A moment to sit and enjoy a good hot meal is in the plan, also.

“All in a teachers day.”

Above: Starting the day the right way with a cup of coffee and a chat. Below: Teaching others—whether they are teachers or not—is the job. Upper Middle: Mrs. Coffman does research in the library. Lower Middle: Teachers enjoy working with and having hobbies, and they really bang away at them in their spare moments.

After a long hard day a moment to sit and relax in an easy chair is pure bliss.

Graduates

Driver, hit that brake!

Working on an annual and publishing a school paper can be fun, but it also involves work and concentration.

From the time the staff left school to seek sponsors to help finance the '71 SHAMROCK until the last mat was sent in to the printers and the last CLOVERLEAF was distributed, there was always the thought "Will we meet this deadline?" Somehow, we did.

Unity is an important part of Mrs. Judy Mull's reading class. By working together, students not only accomplish much in the knowledge department, but also learn about each other and the importance of unity in getting things done. Although many consider reading an individual accomplishment, in this class everyone shares with everyone else.

Unity Among Organizations

Induction services for new members of the National Honor Society were conducted well due to the unified efforts of veteran members, new members and sponsors. Through this sense of belonging and contribution, young personalities are molded into outstanding leaders of tomorrow.

ALMA MATER

Raise a song for Alma Mater,
Let the echoes mount and ring
With our voices now united,
Alma Mater's praise we sing.

As we fight to gain the victory
In one cause we all unite,
To defend the matchless glory
Of the Shamrock's green and white.

Alma Mater tho' we leave thee
Still the mem'ries linger on,
Of our happy days together
And Alma Mater's song.

Of the comradeship we treasured
As our hearts in praise unite,
To the glory past all measure
Of the Shamrock's green and white.

... from Ireland, the Shamrock has three leaves joined on one stalk symbolizing unity in life.

Unity Meets Needs

As the '71 school year ends, new horizons beckon.

Although the journalism students who produced this SHAMROCK have finished their work, they will carry forward the ideals, skills, and helps they learned in this venture.

Instructors in our school, our professional photographer, and representatives from our printers have added interest to our work and encouraged the class onward toward producing a more representative yearbook.

To all those who assisted, the staff owes a debt of gratitude. With their help, we have learned more about living and working with others—about the value of unity.

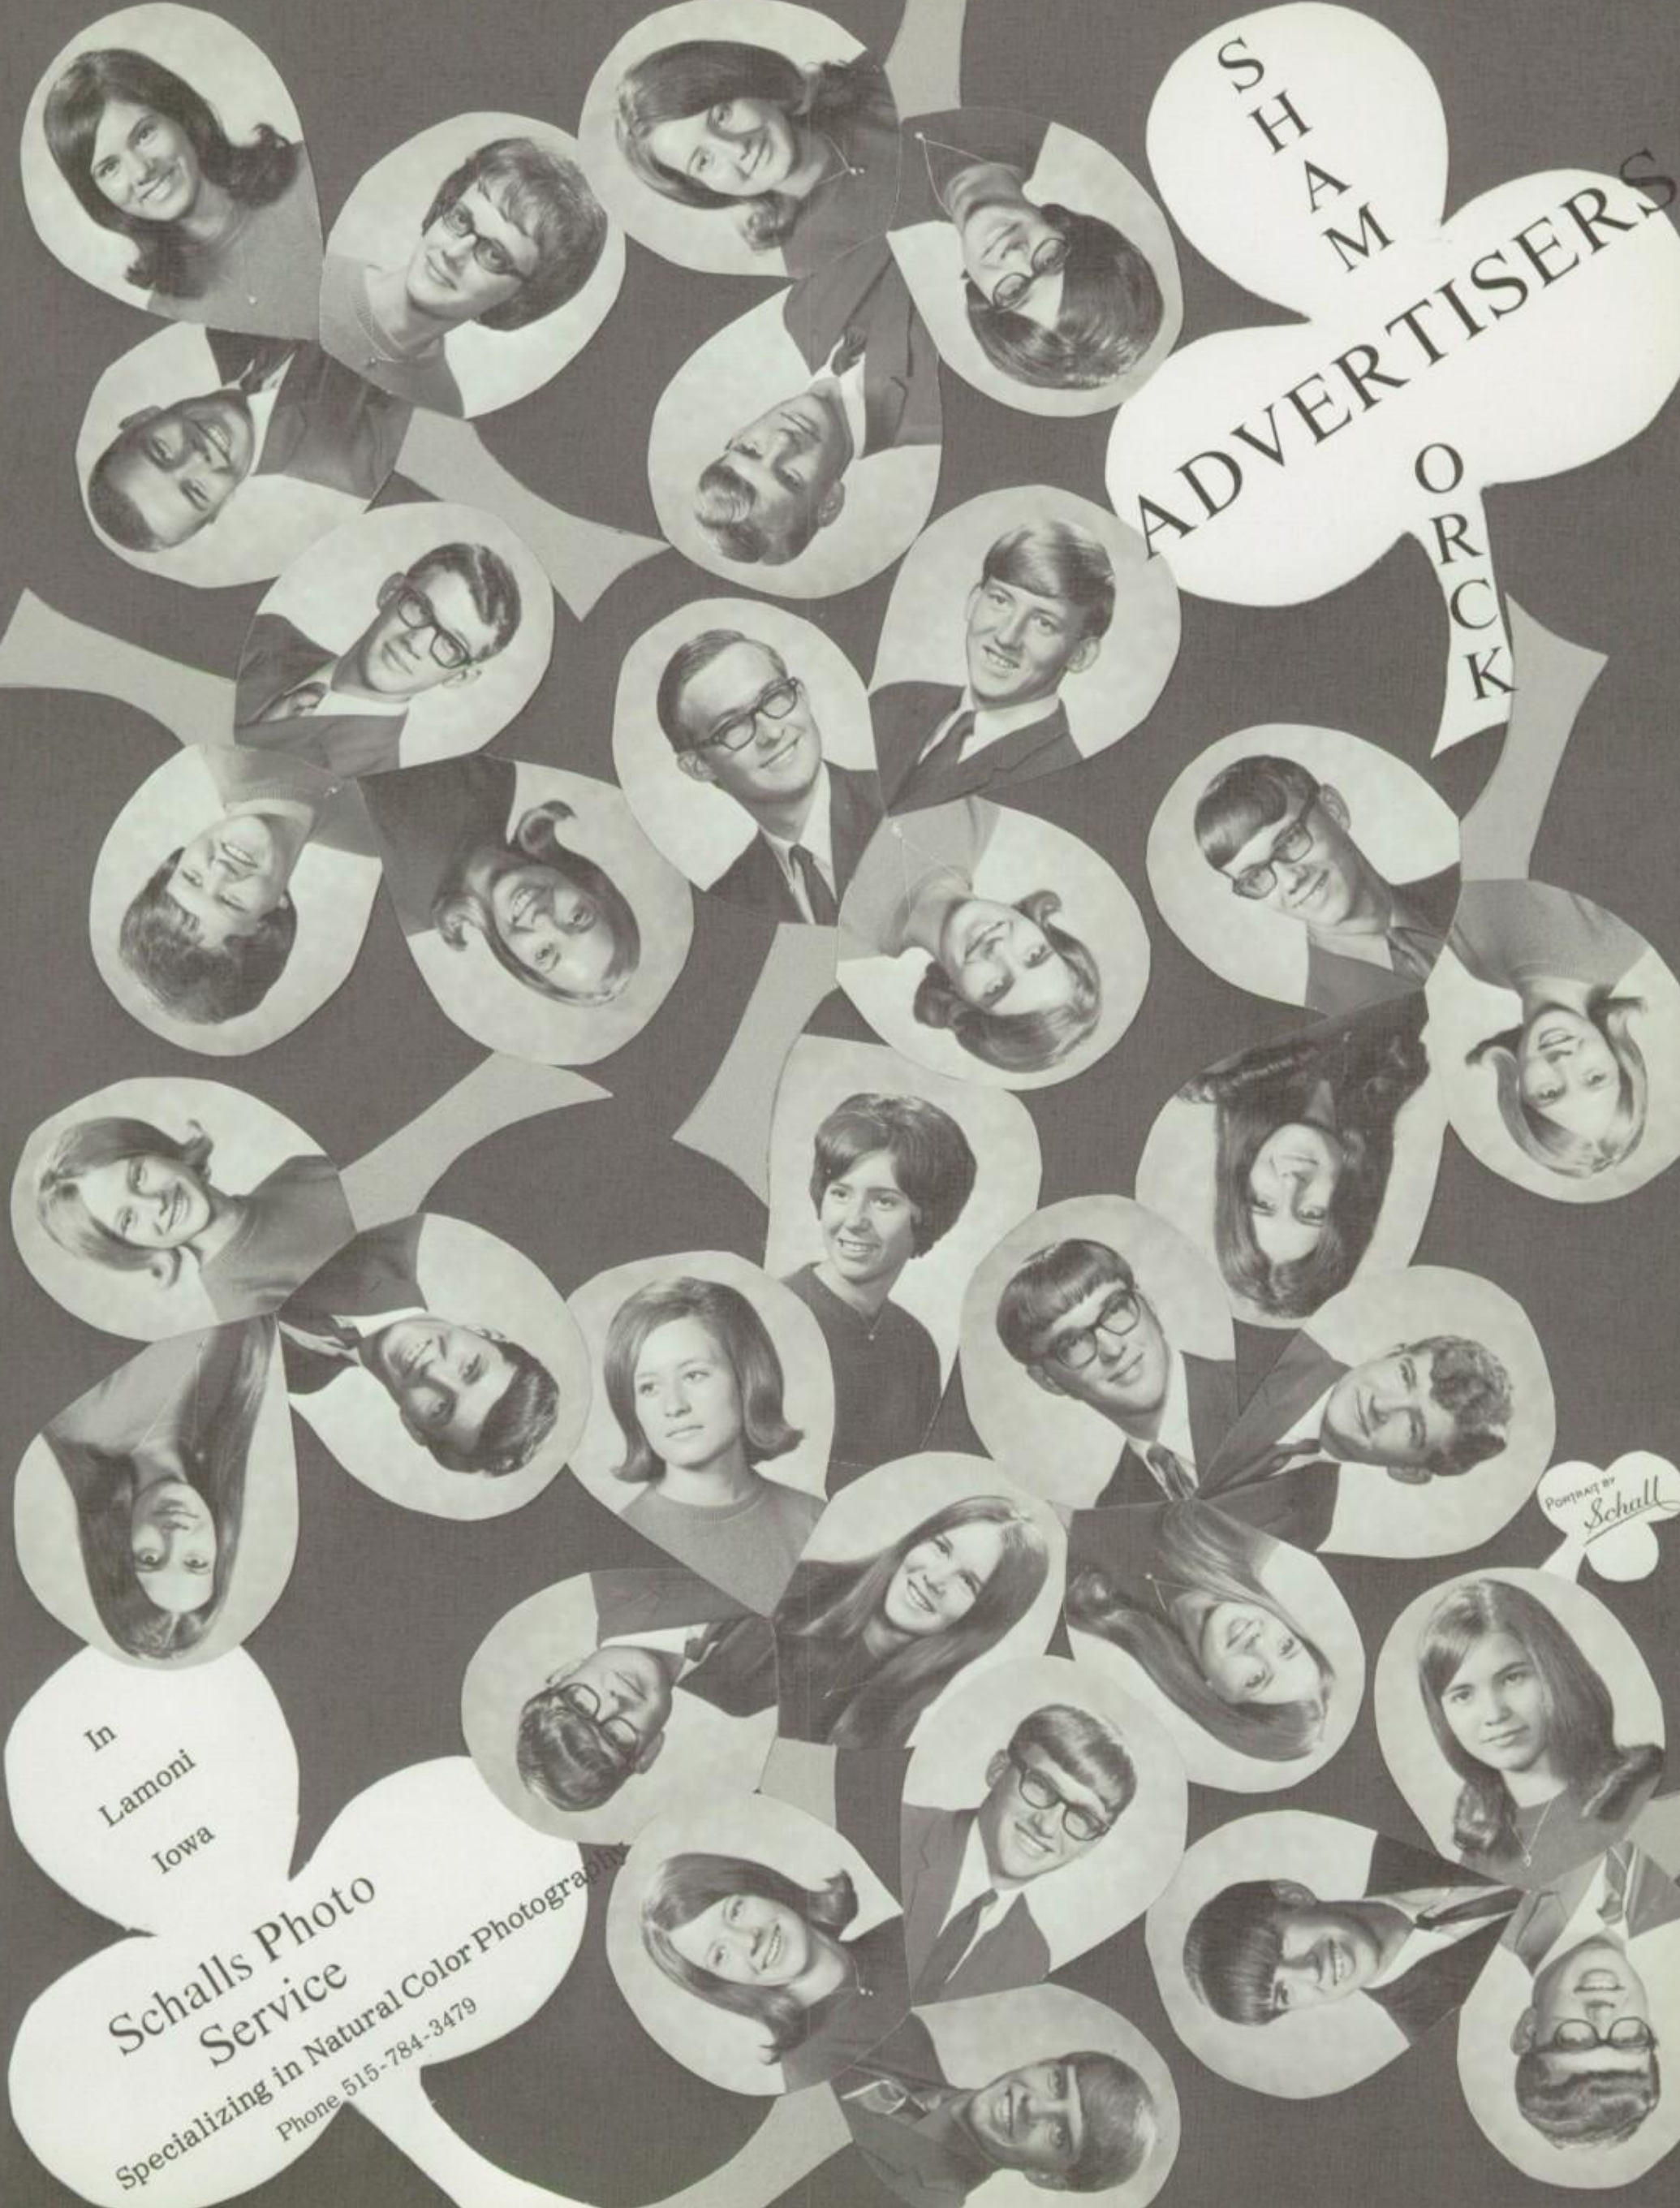

Happiness, for us, has been recording our year.

Steve,

To a real lucky nephew who's lots of fun.
Hope you have lots of fun in the fifth grade, wish you the best of luck in the future. Well, just thought I'd drop you a line.

lots of love
